Independent Manufacturer of Electric Refrigerator Protests Action of

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

Washington, April 10.—An addition to the number of questions pending in Washington in the broad field of trusts consists of a protest by a private manufacturer of electric refrigerators against a public utility company, which sells refrigerators in competition with him. The question thus raised goes to the heart of a recent and common practice by nearly all public utility companies.

and the consumers of such appliances, prefer to buy their appliances from the local public utility company.

The consumer has confidence in the appliances recommended by the company that sells him his electricity. He has confidence also that the appliance will be kept in repair.

The arising of this issue adds one more to the number of highly important questions now pending in the general field of trust legislation.

One that has become acute this week is the matter of permitting a merger between the Radio Corporation of America and the International Telephone & Telegraph Corporation. It is clear that this merger can only be authorized by a change of the statutes by congress.

Lear that this merger can only be authorized by a change of the statutes by congress.

The consumer has confidence in the merit and public interest of their proposal is so to their proposal is so to going on with it anyhow.

Out of these and several similar matters now pending arises the suggestion that congress should amend the anti-trust laws. A phrase commonly used is that congress should be willing to do this increase the congress would be willing to do this of suspicion of large combinations in business is not as great as it was 20 years ago. ROME ACTS AGAINST RECKLESS DRIVING

Rome, Ga., April 10.—(Special.)—
A storm of indignation has been manifested here against the racing of two cars along a busy street here Sunday night that resulted in a triple accident, causing the death of Miss Olive Watson and the subsequent death of her sister, Miss Lewie Watson.

Prominent civic leaders have demounced the speeding and reckless driving while the local newspaper came out with a front page editorial over the matter. Yesterday the Ministerial Association passed resolutions concerning the affair and today Seaborn Wright, senator-elect in the Georgia general assembly, was the author of a front page denunciation of speeding and reckless driving. He urged stricter police enforcement and the addition of motorcycle police.

Meanwhile, Donald Chamber, driver of the death car, paces his cell in the county jail, held there under charges of involuntary manslaughter, and police still seek the driver of another car which is also said to be involved in the fatal crash.

Feeling is high here over the accident, and radical reforms are seen just ahead for the enforcement of traffic laws. It is thought possible that there may be additions to the police department.

Barnaba, a spy of the inquisition, is in-fatuated with La Gioconda, who rages the populace against her mother, La Cieca, who is rescued from the angry mob by Enzo Grimaldo and Laura. Greatest Tenor Of Present Day To Appear Here

NOTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY, APRIL 11. 10

Giacomo Lauri-Volpi is to return to Atlanta during opera week for his second appearance in the south. He will be co-star with Ponselle in "Aida" and "La Gioconda," and with Bori in "La Traviata." His first appear-ance here was five years ago, and it is a coincidence that his first bow before local audiences was made in the role of Grimaldo, in "La Gio-conda." That Atlanta performance was his first in Ponchielli's immortal work.

conda." That Atlanta performance was his first in Ponchielli's immortal work.

Senor Lauri-Volpi has the reputation of being able to sustain his high notes longer than any tenor now singing before the public, and for this reason is an idol of the galleries who thrive upon vocal pyrotechnics.

Great Ovation.

He made his last New York appearance of the present season in "II Trovatore." As his ringing voice mounted to the high C sharp of the final note of the second act, he held it there even after the curtains began to close, and the house thundered an ovation to him that Metrpolitan attaches say was one of the biggest demonstrations of the season.

Lauri-Volpi, while only once a visitor to Atlanta, is one of the most confirmed of Atlanta partisans among the company. "I have such a sweet remembrance of Atlanta," he told a representative of the Atlanta Music Festival Association who was interviewing him in New York this week. And then he confessed that one reason for his partiality was due to the fact that Atlanta critics had given him the most glowing notices in his brilliant career.

"One paper," he said, "wrote that in "La Gioconda" I surpassed Caruso even in triumph." Which was a memory to be treasured until old age; for could higher words of praise be spoken of any singer?

Wife III in Spain.

Madame Lauri-Volpi will not accompany her famous husband. She is ill in Spain at the present time; but when she learned from him that he was to make the trip south this season, she wrote back immediately expressing her regret that she could not repeat the pleasures of her visit five years ago. "Atlanta's temperature, you know, is the same of the balmy airs of Spain—and the people are so delightful," she wrote.

Lauri-Volpi sails immediately after the Atlanta season for Europe, where he is to sing with the La Scala Opera Company, and then goes to Paris, where, at the request of the French president, he sings one of his Atlanta roles, Radames in "Aida," in a special benefit performance for the mutilated French World War

DRY LAW REFERENDUM PLAN IN TWO STATES HOOVER IS GIVEN

Illinois and Missouri Will Follow Example of Wisconsin in Vote.

BY H. ALAN VOLKMAR, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Associated Press Staff Writer.
Chicago, April 10.—(49)—Two new state movements looking toward amelioration of prohibition laws are under way at present on the heels of the recent referendum in Wisconsin. Illinois and Missouri state legislatures are considering measures for referenda on the wet-dry question.

Although ever since adoption of the eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution and the passage of the Volstead act there has been in numerous state legislatures measures affecting the state enforcement of prohibition, a definite action has been taken by only three states.

New York, Nevada, Montana and Maryland are without state enforcement acts, all but Maryland never adopted one as such. Wisconsin has taken steps to be the fifth to join this group. Connecticut and Rhode Island never have ratified the eighteenth amendment.

Although the latter has an enforcement law known as the Sherman act. Connecticut uses state excise laws for prosecution of liquor violations.

Repealed Severson Act.

Last week Wisconsin, by a majority of 125,000, voted in a referendum to repeal the Severson act, state enforcement law. Wisconsin voted for President Hoover on a dry platform last year with almost a 95,000 plurality.

On a preliminary reading the measure found 72 supporters. The wets

COMMODITY RATE INCREASE RULING DELAYED BY STATE

After a hearing before the state pub-

After a hearing before the state public service commission Wednesday to consider proposed increases in commodity rates suggested by representatives of carriers the commission took the case under advisement. Railroads asked that the commodities in question be placed on the same basis for intrastate traffic as applicable to interstate traffic.

The structure of rates proposed by the railroads, based on an interstate commerce commission classification, carried increases in most instances, according to representatives of shippers in various sections of the state. Among commodities affected by the proposed new classification were iron and steel articles, barrels, crates, sugar, agricultural implements, bagging and a number of others.

Besides railroad officials, representatives of shippers in the following towns attended today's sessions of the mariners: Atlanta, Augusta. Albany, Macon, Savannab, Brunswick, Fort Valley, Tifton, Valdosta and others.

Berlin's New Guides.

Nothing is going to be left undon to make Berlin attractive to foreign visitors. Could anything be pleasanter than sight-seeing with a charming, highly-educated young woman able to furnish historical particulars of the Berlin monuments, and also knowing where the best "Calf's" chop with paprika sauce is served? No, of course not. Therefore a corps of women guides, all linguists and "women of the world," called the "Belemuha," is being formed. The name is a combination of the first syllables of the cities Berlin, Leipzig, Munich, Hamburg, where it is proposed to establish the corps. A course of four weeks' training was devised for these women and, after some judicious advertising, a fair number of likely candidates presented themselves. Forty-two guides presented themselves. Forty-two guides have completed the training and are waiting to be engaged, but only ten of these have been able to earn even the most modest living, and are becoming discouraged. The great hotels refuse to call in the women guides, who are of no use to them, and any one who has been in Germany knows how powerful is the hotel head porter. resented themselves. Forty-two guides

Her gifts were generous, and her portrait, painted by Herr Reuter, was hung in a place of honor at the hospital until 1918, when the allied troops marched into the Rhineland. The princess, fearing that she might become the victim of the revolutionaries, placed herself under the protection of the British, and her castle was used as a corps headquarters. To the disguest of her staff the princess returned to her palace after the British occupation, and on seeing the Union Jack flying, cried: "Oh, if only grandmamma (Queen Victoria) could see it she would be pleased!" and successful evangelist in the religious history of the world.

I am not setting out here to summarize a history of the Salvation Army, its struggles and successes during its long and fairly miraculous career upon this sin-submerged planet. The army has its own far-flung publicity process—in fact, the army is religious publicity itself.

It propagates religion in the Jesus with his own motions. When he had them thus practically hypnotized by the music, in rapport with himself, he could make them believe whatever he told them, and his feats went off amously.

General Booth said that gave him the idea that music is a universal language. Rhythm will capture all classes of minds and can be employed to lead them to concentration upon an object or subject. religious publicity itself.

It propagates religion in the Jesus way, mostly largely "in the open," and performing its humanities whenever and wherever the needy are found.

My own evangelistic experiences and observations, obtained all over North America and in the British Isles, have led me to the fixed con-clusion that the Salvation Army is a divinely inspired and permanent agency for the spread of the simple gospel of Jesus throughout the na-tions of the earth.

Booth Understood His Mission. Just 20 years ago when I preached in London for a season I had the opportunity and privilege to become pe sonally acquainted with General Booth. I knew and had co-operated in this country with his son, Balling-ton Booth, and his daughter, Evan-geline Booth, now the head of the army in America.

Those contacts and his own knowl-

He recounted vividly his own conversion and consecration and how out of it all was gendered the idea and eventually the organization plan upon its organized functions, but upon its spiritual unction and dependence. Commencing the army's work among the unwashed denizens of the slummest districts of London, he used the simplest music he could employ and they could respond to—the taml and the drum. He found the worked as he had hoped it would. you may observe on any street of an American city how a crowd will gather at the sound of the Salvation Army drum; and it will become intent upon the cornet playing, the singing and the testifying exhorters. A Salvage Army as Well.

The work of the Salvation Army has, during these many years, expanded into a vast salvage system of human help. I cannot here enumerhuman help. I cannot here enumerate the scores of segregated agencies they employ to rescue men, women and children from evil courses, from pauperism, from disease, and temporary helplessness and despair. The redribboned cap and bonnet are familiar in thousands of American communities. Whenever and wherever seen they are signals that some good work of unselfish help is going on.

Formal charity organizations have their special objectives and community chests their particular fields and subjects, but to the Salvation Army the old philosopher's splendid slogan is also gospel—"nothing human is alien

In making his announcement Mr.

Kingsley made public a letter from the former president of the United States accepting the nomination, "be-lieving that life insurance is the most effective instrumentality for the pro-motion of industry, saving and char-acter ever devised."

Mr. Coolidge added that he be-

"to lend his dler building, which bears his name,

Mr. Coolidge added that he believed a well-managed mutual company to be a co-operative society for the advancement of the public welfare, and said that if elected he would be glad to participate in the administration of the New York company.

Mr. Kingsley said in a statement that Mr. Coolidge was the second expresident of the country "to lend his name and influence to the promotion of life insurance as a form of social pservice". . . . From 1905 until his death in 1908, he said, Grover Cleveland acted as a trustee of the majority stock of the Equitable Life Assurance Company.

Mr. Coolidge has been a policy holder in the company he will now help direct for 37 years, Mr. Kingsley said, and as a young lawyer in Massachusetts he performed some valuable service for it.

Mr. Coolidge will receive no salary as a director of the life insurance company but he will be entitled to the regular fees for attending directors' meetings. To date this fee has been $20 in gold, but Kingsley announced today that in the future it would be $50. "What's the rush?" the fellow said as he fell out of an airplane and grabbed the frail parachute. But he didn't stop for an answer as he was in a hurry to accomplish his purpose.

Those who read yesterday's announcement of the close of the dictionary distribution are now wondering "what's the rush?" They'll also have to hurry to accomplish their purpose, for the offer will positively be withdrawn at an early date.

Bryan County Ruling Reversed When Racial Prejudice Is Proved.

Action of Bryan county's jury commission in seeking to exclude Jews from jury service in that county was severely condemned by the Georgia suppreme court in a decision handed down Wednesday. The court reversed a decision of the Bryan county suppreme court, which had refused to revise jury lists after it was shown that the commissioners had excluded Jews from that list.

C. J. Bashlor and others were upheld in their action for a mandamus on the ground that the commissioners had excluded Jews from that list.

C. J. Bashlor and others were upheld in their action for a mandamus on the ground that the commissioners acted with "hatred, malice and recligious prejudice," in a resolution excluding Jews from both petit and grand jury service.

It was pointed out in the supreme court decision that although the ruling affected only four persons in the county and includentally criticism was directed at a resolution of rights. The high court reversed the lower court and incidentally criticized the jury commissioners.

There were several hundred other answers submitted of considerable merit of a less difference than those listed in the honorable mention.

All contestants entering a contest of this kind understand that it is a contest of merit. Where many contestants enter and only a limited number of prizes, naturally there will be a lot of losers, and nearly all losers are disappointed.

The Atlanta Constitution has no interest in any individual or sets of individuals winning prizes. It is a contest among contestants. The contest is conducted with certain rules and regulations, clearly stated. The merit of the answers alone is the sole determining factor as to the prize winners.

Those who enter a contest and fail to win a prize just fail to submit an answer of sufficient merit governed by the rules to win

Four Requisites Are Outlined By Leaders for New Legislation.

Washington, April 10 .- (P)-Three tional farm organizations that long have been in disagreement over farm relief proposals united today in laying before the house agriculture commit-tee four principles they believe should be written into the new agricultural measure.

The proposal made public by Chairman Haugen of the committee was in the form of a letter seigned by C. E. Huff, president of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union; L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange, and S. H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The three declared that any legisla-tion which stopped short of securing an American price for the farmers produce in order to maintain an Amer-ican standard of living "will-not suf-ican standard of living "will not suffice."

"There are, in our opinion," they added, "four requisites which must be met by any legislation to permit it to qualify properly as farm relief."

Four Requisites Named.

These requisites were a system to make the tariff effective on all crops so that surpluses would not depress the domestic market to world prices; provision for the control and disposition of surpluses; a plan which automatically would check overproduction, and farmer ownership and control of a marketing organization with due consideration to co-operatives already established.

In addition, they said, the congress should make tariff adjustments at the apecial session to keep foreign products from competing in the domestic market.

President's Message.

President's Message.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the senate leader, after a visit to the White House said that the president's message would be received on Tuesday, and that on the following day the farm relief bill would be introduced in the senate, after which it would adjourn until Thursday.

While the house committee is holding all other matters in abeyance until after it has disposed of the general farm relief measure, various other proposals of lesser magnitude are being discussed informally.

Representative Summers, republican, Washington, called today at the White House and discussed a measure he has introduced designed to suppress unfair and fraudulent practices he contends have arisen in the marketing of perishable commodities. This measure, along with several others intended to benefit the farmers, will command the attention of the house committee after it has finished with the general farm legislation.

Gets Early Start.

The mystery girl got an early start Wednesday morning. She arrived a little ahead of schedule at Rich's department store and went immediately to the umbrella department where she looked at several attractive sunshades. From this department she went to the perfume and cosmetics counters, looking about. She was waited upon by a pretty brunette girl, who did not suspect she was talking to the mystery girl. She was not approached in the store by any one.

A large crowd greeted the mystery girl at the Callender & Bussey drugstore when she arrived on time. She was permitted to follow several girls into the store without being approached and felt a little sorry for an attractive girl with a blue dress, red belt and red collar who was approached as many times. on the measure at that session.

The measure, the Texan explained, would authorize the secretary to purchase middling 7-8 cotton whenever its price is 18c a pound and to sell it whenever the price was 21c a pound. The bill would provide for higher purchase and sale prices for higher grades of cotton.

By this method Mr. Cross said the orice of cotton could be stabilized by taking off the market the surplus during years of overproduction and plac-ing the surplus back on the market during years of underproduction.

"As attorney-general of this state," he declared, "I want to ask this court to take judicial notice of the condition of the jury box of this county. I have heard all the testimony before the grand jury but aside from that a private investigation by myself has convinced me that a vicious, deliberate attempt to violate the law has been made."

Southern Records Expected To Fall in Annual Relay Carnival CRACKERS WIN FROM BROOKLYN, 4 TO 2

GREAT FIELD ENTERED FOR MEET AT TECH

Indiana and Michigan Normal Teams Will Compete With Dixie Teams.

With but one day remaining before the southern relay carnival at Grant field gets under way, experts are busy picking winners. The host of talent to start has critics baf-

The field is the best that has been assembled for the relays since its inception seven years ago, and Coach Alexander and his staff have attained their goal of making this the best meet in the history.

This year the conference title is at stake in the half mile, mile two-mile and four-mile relays. The Tigers of Louisiana State university are reputed to be the class of entries in the team race, but will meet some real competition from other schools. Florida will push the Tigers in the half-mile event, Kentucky will furnish plenty of opposition in the mile; Coach Barron's crew from the Flats will be out for the two-mile honors in full force, and Duke and North Carofina, both with star distance runners, will make things hum in the four-mile relay.

runners, will make things hum in the four-mile relay.

The two special relays open are the sprint and distance medleys. Indiana and Michigan Normal are both entering strong quartets in these races, with the Hoosier's favored in the sprint medley and the Teachers in the distance relay. The Michigan team won the mid-west title in this event at the Illinois relays this year and expect to carry the southern title back from the Flats. Duke and L. S. U. will be upholding the honor of the south. L. S. U. and Presbyterian college are regarded as strong contenders in the sprint medley.

McCrary and a host of other century men have filed their intention of running.

In the jumping events, Eubanks, Sauford and Bethea seem to be the outstanding entries.

Rhinebart, Indian's star javelin thrower, is again entered this year, and will probably cop first honors in this event, though Anderson and one or two other southern stars will be strong competitors.

The shot and discus titles will be the goal of Nesom, captain of the L. S. U. team, the present holder of the record.

In the high school field of Friday, the leading contestants will probably be Tech High. Boya' High. McCallie, Charlotte High, Baylor and the Mon-roe Aggies.

Folks Like Babe Ruth Keep Baseball Going-Why Yanks Keep Winning.

As long as baseball produces Willie Keelers, Hans Wagners, Ty Cobbs and Babe Ruths, the game will never die. The conspicuous figures that lend dash and fire and vim and romance to the sport are the spark plugs that keep the great machine Babe Ruth and his associates on the New York American league club play an exhibition game at Spiller field this afternoon with the Crackers. Crowds have been rather lean and sparse at other exhibition tilts, but the Big Bam will pull them in.

Ruth used to pack the park here when his fence-leveling act was new. He draws nothing like the old mobs now, but the drag still is steady and substantial. The oddly proportioned body, the mighty swing and the apparent sincerity of the man First Conference Game

WHY THE YANKEES WIN.

Since Babe was the lone "prima donna" the team with him has developed into what actually may be the greatest aggregation baseball has ever seen. Two full teams with little to choose between them could be selected from material on Miller Hug-

This supply of reserves really is the secret of the Yankees' success. Winning three consecutive pennants in the American league is the measure of that mastery. Every Yankee regular knows that on the bench there is a substitute anxious to get in that ball game. He knows the substitute can play just about as well as he can. Hence he hustles every minute.

Huggins, one judges from the press reports, nearly always begins his training season by starting his substitutes in the regular positions. The psychology of this is apparent. The regular sees the kid working at his old post and he snaps into it right off. Thus the usual loafing of veterans in training camp is avoided.

WHY CAN'T PITCHERS HIT?

Las anyone ever explained satisfactorily why pitchers cannot hit? If I ever read one it has slipped my memory. A college pitcher often can smack the ball regularly; an amateur flinger frequently bats in clean-up position. But as soon as a Simpson. leader today, moved up in ninth place in the elapsed time table in organized baseball he quits hitting. That's the rule, the law, the pinx, the mental hazard or what have you in way of psy-diad will have a bearing on the conference standings.

The series with the Bears is a crudial one for the Petrels as this is the total and the each having the same will have a bearing on the conference standings.

The Petrels have high hope of winning the S. I. A. A. championship this pitching person hangs his uniform in the dressing room of a club battle.

And by the same idea, a professional pitcher thinks more of his base hits than he does of his curve ball. Let an official scorer account an error a ball that might have been deemed a base hit "too hot to handle" and the offended pitcher will moan for months.

A professional pitcher may hold the enemy to three hits and win the ball game, 9 to 0, but if in the eighth inning he dumps a dinky little single back of second base to score a man when the game is sewed up, he will talk about that base hit for days and days and weeks.

WHEEZER'S TWO-BAGGER.

Once old Wheezer Dell had pitched the Crackers into a 10-to-2 lead at a Sunday game in Nashville. The game had reached the seventh inning and the Vols had given up. Wheezer caught hold of one and drove it into center field for two bases to score the eleventh run.

ught hold of one and drove if into center field for two bases score the eleventh run.

That night in the sleeper coming back to Atlanta, Wheezer dragged out his abounisable old pipe, fired it up and began talking about that two-bagger. He was in deadly earnest. His batting eye was coming back to pitchers ain't got no excuse for not hitting ... just swing in there and meet the hall ... put a lot of shoulder into the swing ... follow the ball on down the alley and look at it ... and so on and so on.

Frankie Zoeller and the others finally had to man-handle I Wheezer to shut him up about that useless two-base knock.

BY CY BELL.

The Oglethorpe stormy Petrels will engage the Mercer Bears in the first game of a two-game series Thursday afternoon at Hermance field. The battle will start promptly at 3 o'clock. The Petrels are expecting to show much improved team when they face the Bears. During the recent series with the Tennessee Volunteers the Petrels were off form. The outfield at Oglethorpe this season has been made up mostly of pitchers, there being no other players on the team capable of holding down the outer garden. In the Mercer series, however, the coach is expecting to use both Riddle and MacLaughlin in the outfield.

Joe Kiefer Pitches Smart Ball Game

Fans Cullop and Bressler To End Robin Rally. Club Improved.

BY RALPH M'GILL

Roaring Joe Kiefer and his thick right arm had the Brooklyn base-ball reporters writing sarcastic things back to the home papers Wednesday evening.

The stocky right-hander toiled through nine full innings and the Brooklyn Robins pecked away fatilely at his offerings, getting 11 scattered hits and two runs as the Crackers took the final game of the series at Spiller field, 4 to 2. Clise Dudley, former Cracker, was the losing pitcher.

The Robins were never in the base-ball game and had not the Crackers passed up three scoring chances the score would have been even more conwincing.

Max Rosenfeld and Al Lopez were in the line-up as the new Cracker ball club took the field Wednesday.

And the new combination whirled along at a dizzy pace defensively. They handled 27 putouts and 13 assists. The fielding about the keystonesists. The fielding about the keystone was particularly gratifying.

The presence of Lopez and Rosenfeld gave the Crackers a dash they have not shown to date. There was a sparkle to their defensive play and an edge to their defensive play and that has not been seen this spring. It was a different ball club. REAL PITCHING.

REAL PITCHING.

It was the pitching of Joe Kiefer that stood out as the most impressive single performance of the afternoon. He struck out Nick Cullop once, curving the final one in there for the strike. It takes fortitude to do that, to stand out there on the hill and hook that last one in there with a slugger waiting.

Kiefer was mixing them up, following his slow one with a fast one and coming in there at the opportune time with what the boys call "that old wrinkle."

It was intelligent, smart pitching

It was intelligent, smart pitching and was easily the best pitching performance of the spring season. The game gave the Crackers an even break in the series of two games. Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, who wanted to prolong the Tuesday game to see his club hit, folded his tent and went away early after the Wednesday contest.

Theodosian, Carpenter and Jacobson will be looked to for leaders in the stickwork for the Bluebirds.

Coach Gabe Tolbert's Tech High Smithies are favored to take this game, although they are looking for a scrap on the part of the U. S. B. lads. Everett, Mable, English, Chambers, Boyd or Doody will be called on to take the box, and as all of these men are excellent pitchers there is no prediction possible as to who will get the call.

Tucker will pitch for the Bluebirds, one will see seldomly in Spiller field. It was very nice pitching. Yes indeed. Very nice.

Heavyweights in New York Say Young Is Through Because of Miami Bout.

BY WALTER TRUMBULL.

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)
New York, April 10.—Young Stribling is in the east looking for boxing bouts. The most prominent leather pushers will tell you that the Georgian will not draw, that he is a bad fighter, that he always has failed when given a big chance, but, whatever the reason, none of them will get into a ring with him.

them will get into a ring with him.

One thing which might have a slight bearing on the case is that Willie Btribling is not only a rough playmate, but he hits too hard.

You may say what you please about the Minmi Beach show, but the fact remains that William hit Jack Sharkey twice with right-hand wallops which almost sunk the Boston Sailor. Had not Sharkey fought a smart fight that night, Stribling might have made quite a reputation for himself. It was Sharkey himself who said:

"Anyone who walks into that fellow is craxy. He'll get his head knocked off."

QUESTION OF STYLE.

A good bout, from the spectator's angle, is a question of styles. Put Stribling in with a certain type of fighter and you will have an exciting bout. Put him in with a counter lighter or a defensive fighter and the scene of inaction will provide an excellent place for slumber.

ABOUT PROFESSIONALISM.
It is plain that the Amateur Athletic Union really desires to clean up the amateur situation, and that it has a problem difficult of solution. Suspicion is one thing, proof another.

When you see a young runner who has no wealthy parents, who works neither with his head nor his hands, but lives well, you are apt to suspect that his legs are his chief source of support. You are even apt to suspect to give the Tigers a battle when they come to the Flats, and expect to give the Tigers a battle when they come to the Flats, and expect to give the Tigers a battle when they come to the Flats, and to repeat their recent performance of the basketball court, when they took the Jackets for a ride.

You are even apt to suspect something if he lives at a $10,000 rate on a $1,200 job, but that isn't proof. His assets are his own business, unless it can be shown that they are illegitimate.

Willing witnesses are about as plentiful as in the Rothstein case. Those concerned work by the gangster's code, settle their own differences and present a silent and united front to the authorities.

THREE TRAINERS.

My name is Trouble—Pm a busy bloke,
I am the test of Courage—and of Class;
I bind the coward to a bitter yoke,
I drive the craven from the crowning pass;
Weaklings I crush before they come to fame; But as the red star guides across the night, I train the statwart for a better game, I drive the brave into a harder fight.

My name is Hard Luck-wrecker of rare dreams; I follow all who seek the open fray; I am the shadow where the far light gleams, For those who seek to find the open way. Quitters I break before they reach the crest, But where the red field echoes with the drums, I build the fighter for the final test, And mold the brave for any drive that comes.

My name's Defeat-but through the bitter fight, To those who know, Im something more than friend; For I can build beyond the wrath of night, And drive away all yellow from the blend. For those who quit I am the final blow, But for the heart that wants its chance to learn I show the way, at last, beyond the foe
To where the scarlet flames of triumph burn.

In regard to the master eye in golf, it might be stated that a golfer with a good swing who is nearly blind, is sure to score much better than a golfer with a bad swing, who has the two finest eyes ever set in a human head. It's the swing that counts in golf, and no one ever yet has been caught hitting a golf ball with his eyes. THE BEST OUTFIELD.

Dear Mr. Rice: I fully realize that it is the inalienable right of very one to pick his favorite men of sport, whether it be in golf, oilliards, baseball or parcheesi-if, indeed, the latter may be considered a sport-therefore, far be it from me to attempt to even infer that you are wrong when you made a few suggestions anent famous "outfields" of history.

You mention, however, Cobb, Crawford and Veach-as the strongest outfield on offense. Perhaps they were—but I doubt it. It is entirely possible, in fact probable, that you never saw the famous "Phillie" outfield of which I am about to make mention—because at that time you were not in the sports writing business, if I am not in error, I refer to Ed Delehanty, Sam Thompson and Billy Hamilton, of the Philadelphia Nationals, who flourished before the American league was formed. Surely no one will doubt the hitting ability of Delehanty, once hit four home runs in one game! And, incidentally, his team lost that game. Sam Thompson was one of the survivors of the era of the moustache. He could hit that pill and how! He remains one of the preeminent outfielders of baseball history. His batting average requires no apology. His fielding was well night perfect.

Billy Hamilton! What a name to conjure with. The bane of every pitcher's life, with his base stealing propensities. Where are the Billy Hamiltons of today? I repeat—where are they? And Billy was no slouch with a bat, and at fielding—who, today, is his superior?

He was the Ty Cobb of his period, a period when baseball players we know are not "press agented." Hamilton could hit, run bases, field, THINK, was lightning fast, hard to pitch to and a constant worry to the opposing side at all times. The same might be said of Delehanty and Thompson, but Hamilton was the faster. I am sure that any fair minded judge will agree that my state-ents are well founded. By instinct I am a National Leaguer, but I truthfully think that the resent Yankee outfield is about the best of the lot. Perhaps Cobb could run bases better than any of the Yankee trio, but for all round ability, hitting, running, base running, thinking, throwing—they stand

"I'll tell you," said Joe. "It's about this way—he hits every shot with the same swing and each swing is about perfect." That, in the short or long run, is calculated to produce results. THIS ONE'S GOOD. If you enter the cardroom of a certain golf club in Arkansas you will see a stuffed woodpecker in a glass case adorning the wall of the room and you will see the bill of the bird

BIT OF IRONY.

A story from Dallas, Texas, tells a strange story of the vagaries of a golf ball. According to the story. Jake Lage, a street car motorman playing on the municipal course, halted at the first tee and said: "I like this game of golf principally because it is so free from accidents, particularly to the hands. I use my hands continuously in my business and I might lose my job if they got hurt."

A moment later Jake stepped to the tee, placed his ball on a neat little pin and swung savagely with his driver. The ball sped at an angle toward a tree a few yards from the tee and striking the bole squarely, bounded back to hit Jake a resounding whack on the fingers of the left hand. So there was Jake with a crippled hand just after he had boasted about the safe and sane qualities of the royal and ancient game. "I give up," murmured Jake as he staggered from the tee bolding his injured fingers.

JACKETS TAKE LAST WORKOUT

Spring Football Session Closes With Hard Scrimmage at Flats.

Spring football practice closed at Grant field Wednesday afternoon with a final long-winded scrimmage. At the close of the session the Jackets sped to the showers, tosaing uniforms in a veritable cloud at "Major" Smith, custodian of the supply room at the Flats, not to be bothered with heavy clothes until sometime about Labor Day.

The spring grind this year was handicapped by the fact that most of the letter men were absent for one reason or another. But one veteran, "Parson Jim" Brooke, was out for the practices with any degree of consistency. The other varsity men have been out for other sports or incapacitated in some way and have not been on hand to pick up any new tricks of the game.

Grey Devils, freshmen, and battalion rookies were the material with which the Jacket coaches had to work, and they did a good job with this gang. To bring down the curtain on the work, Coach Alexander sent the boys through another one of those "A" and "B" team scrimmages, after the preliminary exercising had been gone over.

Bill Fincher's "A" crew again walked off with all honors, and featured Pat Barron in numerous dashes up the field. This youngster is the latest of the famous Barron aggregation. Pat broke loose on several occasions Wednesday, his best effort being a 90-yard trek around end for a touchdown. Pat's passes were also right, and Sam Colvin proved an adept receiver.

The Robinsonites were completely verteleved in the heatile, though right, and Sam Colvin proved an adept receiver.

The Robinsonites were completely outclassed in the battle, though "Buck" Flowers was going off tackle for nice gains. These advances were more than compensated for as Fincher's linemen sifted through at intervals to undo all this good work and chalk losses up. After one ten-play drive, it was found that Robinson's lads had wound up just 12 yards back of their starting point, though they had made several dashes in the forward direction.

Pifer, Law. Farmer, Edwards and Brooke all distinguished themselves in line play.

When Hornsby was with the St. Louis Cardinals it didn't take long for Branch Rickey to see the advantages of his specialty. In a short time Rickey had several oddly constructed batting cages shipped to spring training quarters. The addition of the veteran Fred Leach to the outfield eliminates the possibility of a weakness there should Eddie Roush fail to carry on. Roush's condition is better than it was last season. Bob O'Farrell, former Cardinal manager, whose usefulness behind the plate last season was cut down by a sore arm, is in shape. This alone will have a beneficial effect because of O'Farrell's ability in handling McGraw's young pitchers, which are neither coming or going. They have agried. A hopeless looking team outside of the presence of Dazzq Vance. The injury to the shoulder of Glenn Wright, star shortstop, makes him an uncertain issue. The outstanding star of the team right now, apart from Vance, is Johnny Frederick, rookie outfielder, who may prove the batting sensation of the season—and be a world of help to Robinson. However, Robinson's ability as a pilot always has added an unexpected punch to the team and may this year.

The injury to Tom y Trevenow, shortstop acquired from the Cardinals, ruins the chances of Burt Shotton, who frankly admitted that he depended upon Thevenow to "make" the team. The pitching staff still lacks strength and consistency. Shotton's main hope is on the young infield he has selected—and infield bolstered by the addition of Hurst at first base.

The hot battle J. S. Knight, of Akron, Ohio, gave Phillips Finlay, of Belmont, Mass, Harvard linksman, when the Ohioan took the long hitting collegian to the eighteenth green only to lose by a single stroke, was another thriller.

And the Canadians have indi-cated a belief that the guard exceeded ts authority in sinking the ship, to the extent of an official protest. Diplomatic correspondence, followed by appointment of the commission if complete agreement is not reached, will follow. Such a commission likely would be appointed to determine rep-arations to the Canadian owners of vessel, if any reparations are dethe vessel, if any reparations are decided upon.

The rum treaty conceded to the United States the right to seizure and search of suspected British vessels within the treaty limit, but no specific mention covers the case of the I'm Alone, which was chased for two days from a point outside of the three-mile limit but within the 12-mile limit, to the place in the Gulf of Mexico where the sinking occurred.

DAY IN FINANCE

New York, April 10.—Stocks opened at quietly strong, strength and activity increasing until around noon when call money which opened at 8 against yesterday's renewal rate of 7 advanced to 9. Then heavy selling of stocks started with Kolster leading.

This western radio stock which recently sold at 78 3-4, opened at 41 5-8 against yesterday's closing of 43 5-8 and drowned in the noon hour to 31 1-2,, afterwards recovering and advancing violently. The west was again a heavy seller of stocks. In the third hour selling of stocks slowed down followed by a recovery despite 10 per cent call money but trading was light.

Today's resumed selling of stocks was influenced by the special meeting of New York Clearing House banks of these stocks have the door after them.

Today's resumed selling of stocks was influenced by the special meeting of New York Clearing House banks held at 12:30 at which it was voted to advance the charge by local banks for handling call loans for out-of-town banks from the present 5 per cent of the interest received to 1-2 of 1 per cent of the amount loaned. This was the same change made by the local banks here last August in placing money in the call market for corporations and individuals. A minimum of $100.000 was also placed for the amounts to be loaned in the call market for out-of-town banks, the same rule adopted here last summer against corporations and individuals. It was further voted today to make a service charge of 1 per cent against all loans made to stock brokers. The increase in the charge made for mak-ing loans in the call money market for out-of-town banks was directed against the loans made by out-of-town banks for corporations and individ-uals. The service charge of one per-cent made for stock brokers was merely putting on more pressure against excessive stock speculation. Criticism Heard.

A great deal of bitter criticism was heard in Wall Street today against the action taken by the clearing house banks its supporting the efforts of the federal reserve to curtail the use of reserve credit in stock the condition as of April 1 at 82.7 speculation. Federal administration was restored today in battle-ridden international border town of Juarez. Government soldiers marched into the city on the heels of the insurgent command of General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, which is in flight to Sonora to make a final stand against the army of General Calles.

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN. Associated Press Market Editor.

Chicago, April 10.-(A)-Bright crop prospects outdid farm relief as a wheat market influence today, and prices finished lower. Crop news about wheat tended to induce enlarged selling, whereas farm relief developments appeared to be insufficiently definite to avail as a counterbalance.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous 3-4c to 1 1-4c net lower, Corn 3-8c to 1-2c to 5-8c off, and provisions at a setback of 10c to 35c.

Lowest prices of the day in the wheat market were reached in the final hour. Beneficial rains in Kansas and Nebraska, with some addition pas and Nebraska, with some addition to the moisture supply in Canada, did much to emphasize favorable crop advices, and so, too, did a forecast that the rainfalls would spread tonight throughout most of the middle west. Moreover, the government monthly crop report, although proving to be about as trade experts had expected, was construed in various quarters as bearish, especially at Liverpool, where today's quofations on wheat were a good deal lower than had been looked for.

Transient rallies witnessed in wheat ralues today were due mainly to Washington reports about progress of larm relief plans.

Appearance of lessened activity today is export call for wheat shipments from North America was cited as a bearish influence. Right at the close, however, estimates were circulated that wheat export business yesterday and today totaled large, about 3,000,000 bushels.

Corn future deliveries were on sale in liberal amounts today on hard spots in the market. Word was received that planting is progressing in the more southern sections of the corn belt, and that some corn has been put into the ground in southeastern Kansas. On the other hand, weather conditions over much of the corn belt was unfavorable for field work, and shipping demand here was fairly good. Oats as well as corn was influenced to a large extent by the action of wheat.

Despite advances in hog values, the provision market weakened on account of selling on the part of scattered

MODERATE TRADE IN NEW ORLEANS.

IN NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, April 10.—(P)—Only moderate trading occurred in cotton in today's session with the trend of prices downward although the market was supported on the breaks by trade buying on the declining scale.

Unfavorable Liverpool cables, a bearish construction of the March textile report issued after the market closed yesterday, favorable weekly report and prospects for better weather in the belt were the influences which caused selling and liquidation.

Prices at the lowest were 11 to 14 points below the previous close and today's close was at the low. July, which closed yesterday at 19.96, dropped to 19.83, down 13 points and closed at 19.84 or 12 points net lower for the day.

July 19.91 and October 19.74, he same as the opening figures.

After rallying 4 to 6 points on some trade buying the market eased off again on a bearish weekly weather report and prospects for good weather. May finally dropped to 19.76, July to 19.83 and October to 19.70 or 9 to 14 points under the previous close.

Around noon prices rallied about 6 points on rather cheerful advices from Washington on farm relief legislation but prices eased off practically to the lows in the late trading and October made a new low at 19.68 or 11 points in the late trading and Octobers made a new low at 19.68 or 11 points in the late trading and Octobers and on some short selling continued going lower through the day.

Spot cotton was steady, with a 10-point drop in New York, and falling 11 points in New Orleans.

stock market was buffeted about by abrupt changes in speculative sentiment today, as the buil forces were unable to attract a public following, in the face of a repetition of yesterday's 10 per cent call money.

A sharp rally near the close reduced many of the day's losses and left the list generally somewhat higher, although presenting a very uneven picture. Total sales fell off toward the 3.000,000 share level.

Call money renewed at 8 per cent and mounted to 10 with moderate calling of loans. Time money showed no signs of descending from its perch of 9 per cent.

Although the fact that Governor Young of the federal reserve bank is sailing for the Pacific coast tomorrow quieted fears of any drastic action by the federal reserve board in the near future, the credit controversy was revived by the section of the New York the federal reserve board in the near future, the credit controversy was revived by the action of the New York Clearing House banks in raising their service charge for placing loans for out-of-town banks. A minimum charge of 1-2 of 1 per cent per annum of the amount of the loans was determined upon. Heretofore they have charged but 5 per cent of the interest received on the loans.

Business news accounted for some of the erratic shifts in sentiment. Although the U. S. Steel Corporation reported unfilled orders as of March 31, 286,377 tons higher than on February 28, the steel trade reviews injected a note of uncertainty with the ruary 28, the steel trade reviews injected a note of uncertainty with the intimation that steel makers are beginning to wonder how long the present feverish activity can last.

An upturn in crude oil production last week, cancelling the previous week's decrease, was balanced by reports that gasoline consumption was getting into its spring upturn. Merger of Marland and Continental was reported as nearing consummation. France each a shade lower.

Custom Smelters again reduced the price of copper about 2 cents a pound, bringing it around the 20-cent level, although large producers still held to the 24-cent quotations. Woolworth directors proposed a 2 1-2 for 1 splitup. Wright Aero reported record orders and earnings for the first quarter.

Speculative confidence was unsettled by a number of sharp breaks during the forenoon. Kolster Radio dropped nearly 13 points to a new low at 31, in contrast to the 1929 high of 78 3-4, in selling attributed to weakened margin accounts. It regained about half its loss in short covering. Hupp Motors broke about 5 points to a new 1929 low. Wright tumbled 12 1-2 points, but regained its loss after its favorable report on first quarter operations. International Telephone was again under pressure, selling off about 9 points, but cutting its loss in half later. International Paper dropped 7 points on its 1928 earnings statement. Adams Express dropped 20 points in a small turnover, and Motor Products 13.

United States Steel was slow in responding to the unfilled orders report, issued at noon, but promoted the general rally in the last half hour with a jump of more than 4 points. Coppers were bid up on the theory that the indicated stabilization of the red metal price around 20 cents had been discounted. Greene Cananca jumped 6 points. Oils were also brought forward on the reports of the rising gasoline demand. Pau-American issues jumping more than 4 points to new highs.

Merchandise and office equipment shares were strong. Underwood Elliott Fisher, Burroughs, Montgomery Ward, and Sears-Roebuck mounted about 5 to 8 points. Woolworth mouned on the news of the splitup, but reacted later in profit-taking. Crex Carpet jumped 6 points to 40, a new high. American and Foreign Power gained 6 points on its foreign expansion developments, and Baldwin jumped 9 1-2 points on recapitalization prospects.

Ex-Albany Official Insists SELECTION OF DAWES BELL OFFICIAL, DEAD He Embezzled City's Funds FORMALLY ANNOUNCED

Laredo, Texas, April 10.—Sheriff
Joe Condren and District Attorney
Robert Lee Bobbitt, of Webb county, tonight faced what they termed one of the most perplexing problems that ever has confronted them in the case of Robert E. Lee Spence, Jr., of Albany, Ga., who insists he is wanted in his home town on charges of embezzlement.

Spence, a 31-year-old attorney and former Albany solicitor, dropped from sight in his home town where he is now serving as bugler of company

Apparently of keen intellect and well educated, Spence has told officers that he is wanted at Albany for theft, but a wire from Sheriff O. F.
Tarver there, stated that there were no charges against him.

"I took the money and I want to make a clean breast of it and get it off my conscience," Spence told Sheriff Condren and District Attorney Bobbitt.

"It was money in commercial liquidation," he replied to their questions as to where the money was taken.

Mr. Hilles was leader of the Coolidge movement and only swung his support to Herbert Hoover when told at the convention by Everett Sanders, secretary to the president, that Mr. Coolidge did not desire state delegations to vote for him.

In his magazine article, Mr. Coolidge told of sending Mr. Sanders to the convention to notify leaders of his wishes in order to forestall a possible nomination by the convention.

Mr. Hilles said that until Mr. Sanders' visit to him he did not know whether President Coolidge wanted to be renominated.

Newark, N. J., April 10.—(49)— United States Senator Wesley L. Jones said:

"It is charged that senators and representatives drink liquor. This is given by many of those opposed to prohibition as an excuse for drinking. Society also was seen over the question of the clinics, and many resignations were expected.

The statement of the medical society said Dr. Schmidt was being disciplined because of his connection with the institute, and explained that the decision of its ethical relations committee "rested solely upon a violation of the principles of medical ethics."

The vote to oust him was almost the content of the principles of senators and representatives who drink. I regret it. They and those who hold office and have taken a special obligation to obey and maintain the constitution and the laws of the land, especially, should do so. Their failure, however, does not excuse any citizen for violating the laws of his country.
